

It's Review Month!

During the the 4 major weeks of Aril you must be prepared to teach each of the review questions, with your study groups (no more then four students per group) for review and test preparation. During class time your group must present/teach about the review packet. Please be aware that I will randomly ask members in your group questions. If one member cannot answer the questions I ask, it means that as a group you are not ready to teach about the information from the review packet and you will be docked points. Make sure all your members know all the information in the review packet. You must each turn in written answers to the questions for the week on Monday, your weekly packet should be turned in as a group. As a group, you must set aside plenty of time (minimum of one hour) so that all study group members can work together to answer the questions and be prepared teach the information from the review packet. As a group you should come up with a schedule to meet and review the questions before April 1st. Groups should log study hours and get a signature from a parent or Mrs Paoli to confirm that they have met. I will hold study sessions at least once per week so that your group can review the information with me before you turn in your questions. Again, if you come to the study session you need to be prepared to TEACH me your topics and have questions that you need help with. Every individual/group will present on at least 1 question to the class by Thursday, April 28th, 2016. Good luck and I look forward to reviewing important concepts for the year.
